Heidi Hedlund

I can't believe how fast this year has gone. I don't really believe that we are going to be juniors. I feel like our high school years are slipping away without me realizing them. I'm really sorry that I haven't spent more time with you this year. It seems to me that I'm walking off and leaving a good friend behind. You are really trying many things now, but it is hardly fun when there isn't anybody to try with. And even when there is, it seems to me that you still feel alone. Please don't hesitate to come or call just to talk, I think it is worth it, I could use it too. I'm glad that we both made Smoke

Signal, and maybe we can get some good assignments. I also hope that we are in lots of classes together next year so we can work together on all of our crazy classes. Now if I would quit writing the same as everybody else! To me this sophomore year seemed to be rough on ~~me~~ you. I hope that if you can figure out what is happening in this world, that you will tell me the big secret.

I'm sorry about what happened about 30, I shouldn't say anything, but I want you to know that I really thought we had taken quite a fancy

Heidi,
Did I ever tell you that I have a doll called "H. Heidi." and when you press it's belly button it's arm flies up. Clever isn't it? I'm glad that you made Smoke Signal, you'll be a success I know. Take care this summer and get a tan. We'll see ya' 'round this summer and next year.

May God Bless &
Keep you always

Love ya
Mary Washup

P.S. You're a fantastic gal who is bound the best in life.

Heidi
It's been a lot of fun in S-1, and next year we'll make
the best SS staff
there ever was.
Have a good summer.

- Heidi -
I'm the first one on page! Hope you're in one of my classes next year. That would be super fun. Can't wait to get my license!
Wow! How fun! See ya

Remember that place? Those great big flowers on the wallpaper in the bathroom, ugh!
blessed to have you on SS.
but tell Karin to watch it.

to you,
and I was confident that it would continue to be that way.
But thinking about it, I think
he is a bit immature, something we all are, and I believe all of our life-to-a

I have so much I could write about especially Fresno. We sure (all 4 of us) got its been all summer in state reg. good luck in whatever you do! you're so smart, you've got a lot going for you. hope to see you around this summer! love always 77 see right? Carol really close on that trip didn't we? And remember at the awards banquet when I cried when they announced you won first place? Don't ever forget our FBIA Xmas party (fun, fun, fun) + all see you next year. Love always,

Heidi

Even though we seen each other very much this year, you are still one of my close friends. To bad we weren't together in more classes (St. Requirements was kind of a bore). Hope we are in more interesting classes together next year. Get Brown this summer.
P.S. Have fun in Florida.
Friends Forever,
Del Ann Trimble

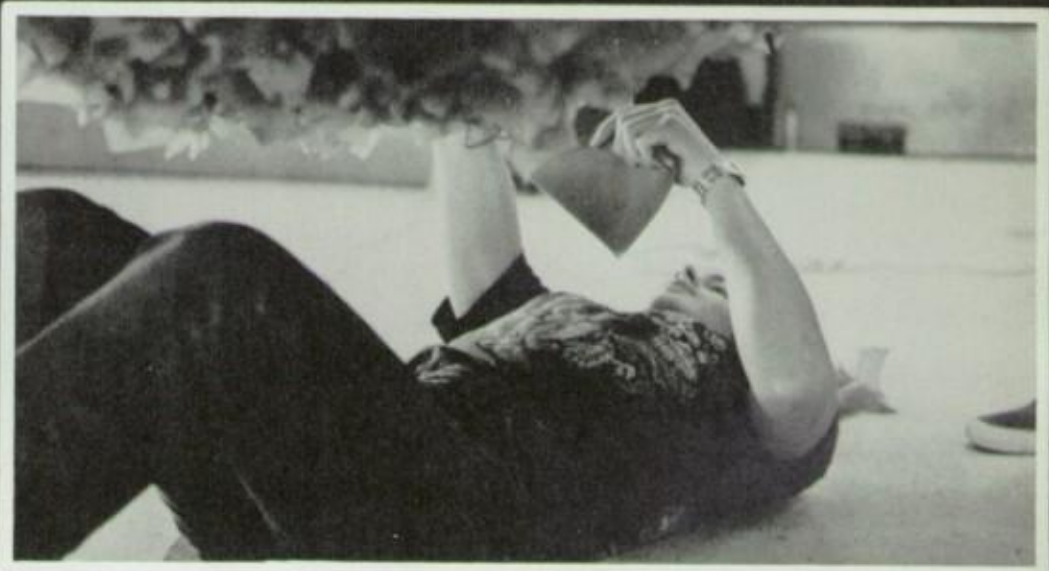

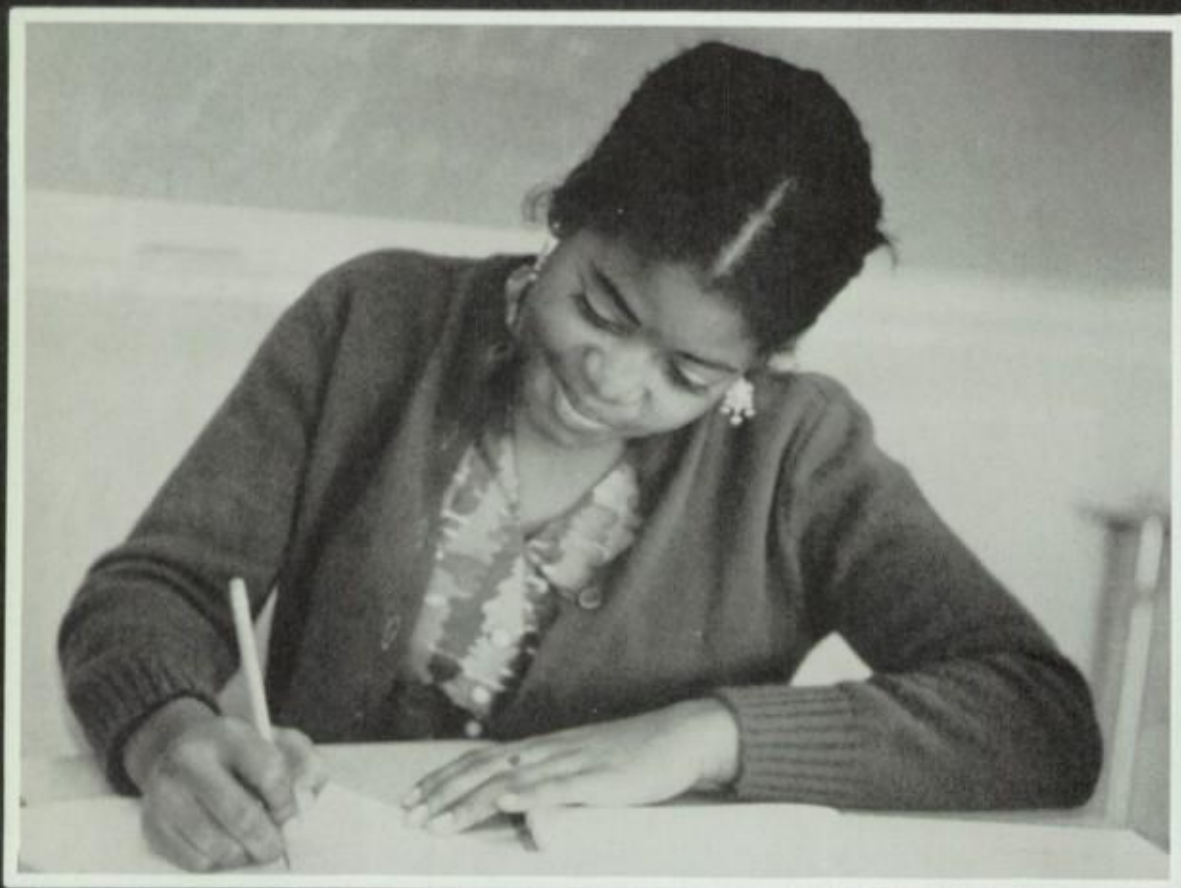

Dear Heidi -
you are smart & funny!

Heidi

-Heidi-

I am really, really glad I got to know you better this year. You are really a sweet friend and I am really not saying that to be unoriginal cause I really mean it. I want to see you some time this summer so call me if you're bored sometime and we'll do something. Also, call me if you want a ride to Bible Study. Okay? Okay. Love you,
Heidi

"a joint rolling contest at an assembly!?" Surprise and disgust caused the entire football team and most of the Senior Class to walk out. But there was success, too. Skits, such as the Day in the Life of a Football Player, the sleepwear fashion show, and the Battle Hymn of the Braves were remembered as special highlights of the year. Special pride was shown by the entire school during and after Cabrillo Week when Lompoc recovered the city trophy. The biggest surprise of the year was the yearbook assembly, which turned out a big success.

royalty came to Lompoc High as the music and drama department got together to perform the famous musical, "The King and I." Two months of rehearsal and prop building, and a year of planning were needed to put on a production of this kind. Much research and ingenuity went into the all new, authentic costumes which highlighted the play. FACTS: In charge were drama, Mr. Larry Bowen; orchestra, Mr. Jerry Weakley; vocals, Mr. Tim Mussard. Title roles were The king, Perry Self; Anna, Lisa Scheffer. The performances ran from March 6 thru 8 and 13 thru 15.

bald and stubborn, but wise and loving, the king of Siam captured the heart of the lovely English school teacher Anna. She, in turn, captured the hearts of all the children and servants of the palace. But the ending was tearful as Anna decided to leave the palace because her ideas and the king's could never compromise. She never made it out of the doors though; she knew that she was needed by the children, as the king was dying. The young prince took over and with him, new, modern ways. hectic moments never failed to present themselves prior to a performance of the flagtwirlers. "Pollyanna" bows had to be tied around six ponytails, and crisp, new flags had to be taped to each flag shaft. Nevertheless, the flagtwirlers let nothing stand in the way of a super performance. Their countless hours of practice all year long were anything but dull. There was constant kidding about their future as professional checkered-flaggers at Indy 500, and the necessity of registering their flag shafts as lethal weapons with the FBI. Heidi, Herman was lots of fun. You usually scored higher on the tests than I did. I may take Herman next year but I'm not sure. I hope you will get straight A's all through high school that is something I could never do. I wish you lots of luck on Tennis next year. I will see you next year sometime and hopefully we will have a class together. I want to tell you that I really like the name "Heidi".
 Thanks for your help in Herman.
 Take care.

Love,
 Carmen

streaking around town seemed to be the main pastime of several young runners from Lompoc high. These hardy harriers just happen to be some of the elite members of our high school's varsity and j.v. cross country teams. After spending about 20 hours a week training and getting their bodies in top physical condition, they were finally ready to go out and face their opponents. On the varsity squad, Mike Bagwell, Jeff Holoubek, and Dave Smith showed great determination with always at least one of them finishing among the top contenders. Art Velasco and Keith Zucker showed the makings of a fantastic varsity team next year by their times while on the j.v. squad this year. Both squads showed that they could put up stiff competition in any kind of weather or on any types of terrain, from their wins over Righetti in burning heat and Arroyo Grande in drizzling rain to their struggle up Lookout Point and the hard runs around Waller Park and the Village Country Club, where the league finals were held. The courses and weather conditions were tough, but Lompoc once again proved they were a lot tougher.

struggling to keep their Northern League standings up proved to be no easy task for this year's varsity basketball squad. However, they did remarkably well, considering that only three of them were returnees from last year's varsity team. Its record doesn't tell the entire story, though. In many of the games that they lost, only a slim margin existed between the teams.

naked legs racing hard towards the finish line, sometimes coming in first place, and vaulting over 13 feet without disturbing the bar were the accomplishments of almost daily workouts performed by the boys' track team. Skidding on the course after a desperate lunge for the tape, bruised and scratched from falling onto poles or flying into instead of over hurdles, these athletes risked bodily injury to do well in their individual events, for themselves and the team. Altogether, the discomforts were worthwhile. Lompoc finished the 1974 season with a 6-1 record and second place losing only to the first place team.

tardy! "That means three minus points." "I'm sure! It's only two seconds after the bell." "Well that's two seconds too many." So it was in the P.E. department every day. But all in all the system was pretty fair (for the girls anyway). It was set up so you didn't have to be the greatest athlete in the world to get an A. You started out with 100 points, then each time you were tardy or wore the wrong colored socks, you would get minus points. The total amount of points determined your grade, at the end of the quarter. Of course the boys still have that good 'ole "Do your best and if we think you're good enough you'll maybe get A, otherwise . . ."

“geez! When will I get this right?” Frustration and words laced with no-no's were all a part of being involved in Useful Arts. Setting type wrong, working all period on a print only to find it's backwards or pricking a finger for the tenth time, everything seemed to go awry. But not always. Success usually came along after repeated failure even if it was insignificant as hammering a nail instead of a thumb. Satisfaction from actually doing something correctly kept most students trying their best to achieve perfection.

"Me? You've got to be kidding!" Doing your own thing and doing it well is what Fine Arts is all about, whether it be writing or singing, printing or painting. Each one is an artist in his own way. This year we had many talented students, who enjoyed what they did enough to print the school newspaper, win a prize in a photo contest, put on a play or a concert, and make themselves a beautiful pot. These are a few of the things that make us progress into a better people.

guiding Lompoc High was the main concern of the administrators. Efforts will be made to get more vocational training classes into the curriculum next year. Concern for low interest and poor attendance by many students resulted in serious consideration of changes in classes and the tardy and absence policies.

keeping Lompoc High School a decent place to attend, these helpful people willingly offered their time and services toward improving the school. combining a warm personality, a talent for leadership and a flair for doing a job well, JULIE BARNACASTLE was in every sense of the word a Pacesetter. Marching her way from Drill team as a soph and junior to Flags as a senior, Julie helped to promote spirit. Besides being busy with practices, she was the editor of the yearbook, in AFS, CSF, Quill and Scroll, DAR Good Citizen, and B of A plaque. Julie was on the prin. list, a CSF life mem., and a Junior Usher.

a lively attitude toward jobs and toward people was typical of ANNIE KEYS. With her zest for sports she was on both swim and tennis teams. She was a class rep. in her soph and junior years and then SB vice-pres. Annie's speaking ability was shown by her winning first place at the State Speech tourn. Her brains weren't affected by her business. She was a CSF life mem. and prin. list.

stepping to the beat of his own life style and being drummer in a local band, PAUL LaRUE is a Pacesetter in a new sense of the word. He spent most of his time being SB pres. In his frosh and soph. years he was in football, golf, and tennis. He stayed on honor roll all four years.

athletic ability was what Pacesetter JOE MILIATE was ever proving by being involved in football, wrestling, and track. But sports wasn't the only thing that he excelled in. He was also on Ustani and La Purisima, Lettermen's, and Quill and Scroll. His leadership skills came out when he was voted team co-capt. in football, Junior Class pres., Senior v-pres., and Boys' State Delegate. Even as busy as he was, he still kept on Prin. List all four years.

excelling in many areas of campus life, Pacesetters were chosen by the seniors as leaders of their class. While striving to reach perfection, these 14 people built for themselves a certain prestige. Leadership, self-confidence and enthusiasm were the ingredients each displayed. These people are just part of the outstanding class of '75. They gave just a little more of their time and of themselves for the betterment of their school.

Heidi,
 I've thoroughly enjoyed sitting next to you in this lovely German class. Mr. Maras is really great & you don't let him get to you.

You have to stay active or you'll go crazy & stagnate. Good luck in tennis & enjoy life. I know you'll go far with that great personality & good Democratic background.

conspicuous in talent, TANYA YUHAS stood out in any crowd with her abundant red hair. Devoting time to sports, Tanya was on both the girls gymnas. and tennis teams, a Mat Maid, and Lettergirl. As a senior, she continued her standing on the Prin. list, was class rep., on the year-book staff, and a Homecoming princess.

football put its mark on the life of DAVE BARTHEL. Showing superior skill and stamina on the varsity team, Dave held the position of linebacker for two years and was selected league MVP and all-CIF as a senior. Outstanding in baseball, Dave lettered three years, yet still maintained his grades and honor roll standing.

SUNNY smiles greeted everyone who met DALE SKIDMORE daily. His cheery outlook on life plus his involvement in many sports and clubs, enabled him to become a Pacesetter. He played football for four years and basketball for three. He was recognized for his leadership when he was chosen Boys' State rep. and Key Club pres.

boundless energy, combined with a high interest in the affairs of the school, had DIANE BRAUN moving constantly throughout her high school career. Involved in student govt. since her soph. year, she helped on Accred. and Homecoming cmtes., and was Girls' State alt. As a senior, she became a CSF life mem. and Comm. of Act.

authority delegated to Pacesetter ISABEL HERNANDEZ was in capable hands. Though time-consuming, her participation in Keywanettes, Forensics, and the Homecoming cmte. did not hinder her leadership in other areas. Isabel was pres. of both AFS and the Sr. Class, and earned honor roll standing through her grades.

sparkling with enthusiasm, Pacesetter KATHY LYNCH spread inspiration to those around her. As editor of the Smoke Signal, she was always there to help. Her scholastic ability was proven as she was not only a life member of CSF, but also a Junior usher. The rest of Kathy's time was divided between AFS and Quill and Scroll.

creative all the time, CARON WALTON gave a colorful touch to whatever she did, whether it was twirling a flag or singing in the choir. Though she was involved in AFS, Keywanettes and yearbook staff, she stayed on top of things in academics, making the Prin. list two out of four years.

sincere, energetic and helpful are the qualities of leader MIKE SPRING. Earnest in his efforts, he lettered in water sports all four years making Sports Ed. of Smoke Signal come natural. AFS, Lettermen club and Quill and Scroll added to his interests, saving time for Comm. of Pub. His vigorous studying became worthwhile when he got to wear a gold tassel at graduation. technically inclined, PETER MORGAN aided many Thespian productions which won him "Best Crew Award" in Thespians. Being known for his outgoing personality led him to the position of Comm. of Assem. his Jr. year. Concerned about the school, he worked on the accred. cmte., and was Sr. Rep. In his spare time, he played in a band.

practical in her ways, eager to get involved and always ready to lend a hand, DENISE LACANETTE proved she is a Pacesetter. Her versatility led her to varied activities as sports, cmte. and clubs. She not only led her class as a Rep., but led the school as SB sec. That didn't hinder her grades, for she was a CSF life mem.

reaching new heights on the ladder of learning, these people were receivers of various awards. The Elk's Leadership and Most Valuable Student Awards were given to five seniors this year. The Betty Crocker Homemaker was chosen on her knowledge of basic homemaking skills. Bank of America awards were given in two divisions; plaques were given in general areas, and certificates in specific areas. Reliability and leadership were honored by the DAR Good Citizen Award. Girls' and Boys' State delegates were picked on their leadership and scholastic ability. The only National Merit Semi-finalist was selected by his scores on the PSAT/NMSQT tests.

optimism soared as seniors prepared to take on the challenge of the outside world. The Class of '75 moved on from the quiet, unspirited freshmen of '71 to the enthusiastic, high-spirited class that dominated the class yells. bursting with talent, this year's seniors expressed themselves in many different ways. Seniors hammed it up during assemblies, performed in the various arts, and led the football team to the CIF semi-finals. Seniors performed under various conditions, ranging from the sunny, bright days to the wet, cold nights.

Raymond White acts his part well. "Go! Fight! Win!" yell Angie Barnacastle and Edna Taylor in unison.

mirror reflections in wallet size are valuable merchandise when seniors finally receive their picture packets. Swapping and trading go on for days as they anxiously collect mementos of friends.

"These pictures better be good. I've been waiting in this line for an hour!" is a common thought of many seniors as they wait to pay for their portraits. Dorothy Swing can't believe her picture.

Heidi,
 You have truly been a pleasure to have in class.
 I hope that you will continue to do such fine work in the future. It's been fun!
 "hey, at last I'm a big junior!"

The '76'ers learned to like being second in command around the campus. With class rings and driver's licenses, they were ready to tackle anything that got in their way. FACTS: 445 juniors; concession stand during the Homecoming game against Right-ti and shared the concession stand with the sophomores during the first CIF game against Burbank, sponsored a dance with Mizeck in December, class rings delivered on December 18th, junior-senior prom in May.

food fights, cruising down College and writing on lockers are a few of the things these juniors do when there simply isn't anything else to be done. Much to their dismay, janitors, patrolmen, and teachers are kept busy controlling these interesting hobbies.

"Burt Reynolds, eat your heart out," says Steve Miliate on his way to class.
"Please not here in public, Carol!" exclaims Helen Howard to Carol Nelson.

spirit of the '76ers was just that this year. Though they didn't always come in first in the class yells, they did run a close second. Imitating a typical morning at a football player's house was one of the great skits put on by juniors.

Pride beams on the face of Tricia Campbell as she cheers during assembly. Brad Burbridge and Rick Walker stand tall as the Alma Mater is being sung.

scarfin' up grub from the cafeteria in record-breaking time, or suspiciously nibbling on their nutritious lunches from home, each junior displayed his individuality every day at lunchtime.

"finally, finally I'm not just another underclassman any more!" "Wow, in only six months I'll have my class ring!" These and other similar remarks were heard all over the campus after the class of 1977 left the dregs of underclassmanship to move up to junior standing. FACTS: 480 sophomores; concession stand; car wash during the summer; Homecoming float won third place; Senior Tea, May.

Class Sponsors: Mr. John Kistle, Mrs. Gerry Young, Mr. Bob Hill, Mr. Gus Peterson, head.

"Just a couple more years until I graduate from high school and then . . ." thinks Tom Denton.

Class Officers: Jean Valencia, pres.; Bob Hernandez, v-pres.; Kim Heard, sec.-treas.; Yvonne Linde, rep.; John Mintz, rep.; Shelley Hamer, rep.

unfamiliar surroundings, new faces and new places were common obstacles to the inexperienced freshmen on their first day at Lompoc high. Yet, the uncomfortable feeling of not belonging soon gave way to the boredom of familiar daily routines. FACTS: 478 freshmen; football concession stand during Santa Maria game.

spending money is an easy job. But, as the freshmen found out, making money can be frustrating and tiresome. Their big bread-winning project, the concession stand at the Santa Maria football game, took a lot of work but the profits and the fun made it well worth their time.

"All right! Whose bubble gum is in this cup?" asks Chelle Martischewsky working the concession stand at the Santa Maria game as Paul Feeley realizes it's his.

glub, glub was a common thought in the minds of many of the soaked and dripping freshmen as they kicked and splashed their way through the swimming proficiency test. A requirement of all freshman girls, this was one soggy test everyone was glad to have finally passed.

"Just how many more minutes do you suppose we'll have to tread water?" gasps Dyanne Domingos to Debbie Stevens. "Well, did we pass the big swimming test or didn't we?" question Debbie Calvert and Diane Bortner.

performing would seem to be a frightening experience for most of the new and timid freshmen, yet judging audiences couldn't stop the performers from doing their best. Individually or as members of a group, each finds that a good performance is well worth their effort.

the light fades:

It is we who leave this light, this school; it is not the light which leaves us. We go to seek other light, other directions for our lives; the school will remain a light to those who come to it in the future. It has given us the brightness of laughter, the joy of friends, and the illumination of learning. The school has lived up to its motto: "In the darkness, light."

inspired by the theme, "In Darkness, Light," it was our desire to show the light. We wished to show the enlightening effect of school through learning, friendship, awareness, and emotion. We in no way tried to defend school, but showed it as a place to learn about yourself and others. Our thanks and appreciation go out to the faculty, to Mr. Robert Paisola, to Mr. Dave Herber, for their patience and co-operation; to Mr. Jay Ratcliff for his neverending faith in us and our photographic talents; to Alfred and Fabris studios for processing some pictures; to Mr. Viga Hall and the Taylor Publishing Co. for printing; and to you, the Braves, for being the light on these many pages.

It's a trying business, this production of a yearbook.

Heidi -
 to the super typist of B-6.
 It was nice having you in typing and German class. You're a really sweet person. Good luck next year in Deutsch. Good luck of the good typing your friend,
 '16 Evelyn Vance

Heidi -
 It was nice in Bible class. Well
 I had lots of fun
 this year. Hope you did. Have a nice summer and good luck next year. '15 Evelyn Vance

I don't know what to say but I'll try my best! We'll have a lot of fun next year with flags and tennis and smoke signal. This year hasn't been too fantastic since I got a 21 and you got 29 on your math. But remember they were different tests. Ha! Ha! Like it would really matter!

I really liked 9th grade and I wished it could have lasted forever but good things usually don't. But I'm sure us "Three Musketeers" would last forever! Even after we graduate and go our separate ways!

Let's go to some more movies and let's get together during the summer and do something for heaven's sake!

I know you're gonna get straight 'A's and I'm not and I'll get jealous! Oh well isn't that what friendship is all about?

Love

Susan
 Wong

Heidi,
you're a really sweet
and pretty girl, you're going to have lots of fun in Florida. I wish you a lot of luck. It's been fun
in Dungs and sex.
Dung was um-sweet alright. Have a good summer, see
you around,

Love,
Anita

HEIDI, WHAT CAN I SAY?
THIS YEAR HAS GONE BY SO FAST AND ITS REALLY GONE
BY FAST. (I JUST REPEATED
MYSELF... THAT'S WHAT I DO WHEN I WRITE & TALK
AT THE SAME TIME)
I MEANT TO SAY IT'S BEEN FUN! GOOD LUCK ON THE SS. NEXT YEAR (YOU'LL NEED IT!) NOT REALLY
ANYWAY HAVE A GREAT
SUMMER & I'LL SEE YOU
NEXT YEAR. GARY

- Heidi -

My dear, dear friend. We have gone through a lot this year. You know I am sorry if I ever hurt you. I can be too openmouth at times. It is so great that you achieved so highly in FBLA. I wish all the luck in the world. It is very hard to write to you because we are such good friends.
I hope you don't move to Nigeria. That would be terrible!

It's too bad that we like different things in Journalism. We will be busy, very busy next year. With classes like Chemistry, Math, Smoke Signal (Yearbook) for me and foreign language we will have a lot of homework.

I can't think of anything to write, I think I am repeating myself. Oh well, good luck; have a fun summer. Stay sweet etc...
Love, Susan Renae

Your good friend &
"77"
companion.

Love,
Dorinda

- Heidi -
I was really sorry to see you transfer out of 4th period Journalism. Anyway, I was fun too even if we didn't talk to each other all that much. Hope you have fun during the summer and playing tennis next year. Hope to see you again next year and still be good friends. Dorinda
